The Priest Comes to Life on Bosco Jayanti

The morning of 16th August 2012, in the tranquil ambience of Salesian College throbbed with zeal, as the students and faculty joined hands to honour and revive the memories of St. John Bosco on his birthday, with the multitude of talents treasured in them. The pious ceremony began with words of welcome by Fr. Nirmol Gomes followed by hymn which sanctified our tender minds. Dance by Geography department, words by Fr. Principal worth a jewel, garlanding of our revered guests and lighting of the lamp followed in quick succession to balance out entertainment with wisdom which moulds our vista of life. Soon after, the new courses constituting of Geography, Pol. Science, Psychology, B.C.A. and P.G. courses were inaugurated with terse lectures accompanied by presentations which outlined in nutshell the fathomless domains of the subjects. The chief guest Prof. Raghunath Ghosh, Director, Academic Staff College, N.B.U. rejuvenated the students with his philosophical yet pragmatic analysis of the 'techno-mad' world. The hall soon echoed with the applauses and hoots as Henry and company voiced the English song which preceded the presentation on Don Bosco and zealous inter-club folk dance competition. The message of the judges and the breath-taking results of the competition stole the limelight. Computer club pocketed the first position followed by Literary club and Sports club. The historic celebration ended with a vote of thanks by Chanchal Agarwal, the president of Students Council and the Don Bosco anthem that petered out slowly leaving felicitous memories of the function in the silent, sombre hall.
