

"Diwali Milan 2012"

For the first time, Salesian College Siliguri Campus celebrated Diwali, the festival of lights with all their students and staff in their campus with pomp and show. In the evening of 8th November, around 4.30pm, all the students gathered together in traditional apparel to celebrate this festival, with the whole college family though all are from different cultures and tradition, showing we are one and always will be so.

The program began with a prayer song sung by college choir coordinated by Father Vice Principal and Peter Sir, followed by decorating the college with diyas, colourful wax candles, flowers and lights. We had inter-club Rangoli Competition. It was wonderful to see students bringing out their artistic skills in designing colourful patterns. The result of the competition was announced amidst loud cheers: Sports Club came first, Nature Club second, and in the third position were Literary Club and Fine Arts Club.

Then there was a rocking dance performance by Chanchal, Mamta, Tony and Sourav on the song "Radha". We even burst crackers and danced together and then had snacks and refreshments. Last but not the least there was a prize for the person in best traditional attire, which was given to : Mamta and Livia.

Overall, the event came out to be a success in bringing all together the Siliguri Salesian family to have an experience of enjoyment and fun, in turn cutting down all distinctions of culture and traditions.
