

Graduation Day cum Farewell Programme

19 February 2013

Batch 2010 – 2013

alesian College, Siliguri Campus added the Second batch of the Graduates in its annals on 19 February, 2013 after the commencement of the new campus of Salesian College at Siliguri in 2009. It was a proud moment for the management, professors and the students to witness the event when thirty six energetic and enthusiastic young adults successfully completed their B. Com. (Accountancy and Management Honours & General) course organized by the Department of Commerce of the College. Adorned with colourful and flamboyant graduation gown the faculty and students entered the auditorium to be received by the students and guests with thunderous applause at 11:00 am. Mr. Pawan Prasad, Head of the Department of Commerce formally requested the Principal, Fr (Dr) George Thadathil to declare the thirty six students to graduates (subject to the passing the University Exams) after having presented the roll call and report of the assessment and evaluation conducted by his department and having found the students proficient for the degree for which they enrolled in 2010. Fr (Dr) George Thadathil, the Principal congratulated the students and the department for having successfully completed the B. Com. course and the students swore an oath to be intellectually sound, socially committed, morally upright and to work for the cause of poor and needy to uplift the society and country.

Fr. John Burger, the Novice Master, Savion Bhawan, a veteran educator was the Chief guest of the event who presented his Graduation speech and appealed the graduates to be eco-conscious people who walk with the fear of God making a balance of cosmo-theantric approach in modern living as young adults. This was followed by Award giving ceremony and a photo session thereafter. The formal Graduation ceremony was soon followed by retro themed farewell programme organized by the students of the Part I & II in leadership of the Students Council where the students had sing-song, dance and moments of reminiscence seeing their photos and other AV presentations. The day came to a close with a dance session at the College portico.
