

Commerce Picnic 2014

Saturday, 11th Jan, 2014, Department of Commerce, Salesian College Siliguri Campus went for picnic to Surma Tea Estate, 40 km away from Siliguri, Ghoshpukur, NH-31. It was organised by the students of B.Com final year and was supervised by Chanchal Agarwal and was coordinated by Tony Thomas, Mayank Agarwal, Rashmi Bansal, Manish Jaiswal and other final year students under guidance of Fr. (Dr.) Nirmol Gomes, Rector and Vice Principal, Miss. Moushakhi Ray, HoD, Dept. of Commerce and the departmental teachers. The group of 125 students started from college at 9a.m. by 3 buses and reached the spot at 10:30 am. After reaching the place the group was served breakfast and coffee which was already prepared by the cooks who reached the spot earlier. It was followed by scouting around the place in groups. It provided scope for lots of fun in the small river as well as in the lake; they also visited the nearby villages. Around 2 pm, they had lunch. Both teachers and students played the games like 'housie', 'musical chair' and also badminton. Then they danced around the bonfire prepared by the organising team especially as the winter fog and a slight drizzle clouded the sky. At 5:30 pm after snacks and tea and with thanks and a token of appreciation to the management of the tea garden for their help and cooperation the group again started their journey back to college and they reached around 7 pm. The day was filled with fun, frolic and excitement. Everyone, especially outgoing 3rd year's students enjoyed most in the picnic. It was also the last picnic of Fr.(Dr.) Nirmol Gomes with Salesian college as Vice Principal and Rector which he enjoyed a lot and will probably never forget in his life. Thanks in ample words go to the department teachers and organising team for such pleasant picnic.
